James Cook Hotel Grand Chancellor's Employee Wins Young Tourism Export Councils Rising Star Award

Congratulations to Jessica Taylor, Marketing & Communications Executive at the James Cook Hotel Grand Chancellor, for winning the Young Tourism Export Council of New Zealand's (Young TEC) Rising Star Award. The award recognises the efforts and contribution to the development of New Zealand's tourism industry by a Young TEC member under the age of 30 years.

Jessica holds a Bachelor of Tourism Management with honours degree from Victoria University of Wellington and has worked at Hotel Grand Chancellor for the past three years, starting at the organisations Head Office before moving over to the James Cook Hotel Grand Chancellor. Reflecting on the award, Jessica is grateful for the opportunities the tourism industry and Hotel Grand Chancellor have provided. "It's positive to have strong leaders in the industry to aspire to and being a member of Young TEC has presented a range of networking and development opportunities".

The James Cook Hotel Grand Chancellor is located in the heart of Wellington City, conveniently situated between the leading retail district of Lambton Quay and the business hub of The Terrace. The hotel features 268 accommodation rooms, two restaurants and bars, Infuse Day Spa, an exclusive 26th floor Club Lounge and a complimentary in-house gymnasium.
